The Solemn Communion class goes on retreat this morning for three days in preparation for Communion Sunday morning. They will receive at the 7:30 Mass. Over 200 children are in this class.

According to reports received from the various societies the big fair in June is going to be a great success. The locations of the booths have been decided upon, and carpenters will begin working on them as soon as the lumber arrives. The booths are planned to be very beautiful to have every convenience including shelter from rain. A special day will be given for children to allow them to partake in games.
